Meet some of our Go Digi Champions

David Bartlett

David is a former Australian politician, serving as the 43rd Premier of Tasmania from 2008 until 2011. He brings a unique perspective to discussions about broadband, innovation, commercialisation and the future of government service delivery and is passionate about ensuring that all Australians are given the opportunity to build their digital skills and confidence.

Nan Bosler

Nan is President of the Australian Seniors Computer Clubs Association (ASCCA). Nan feels strongly that was over 50 when she first went to University. She now has five tertiary qualifications. Nan is committed to ensuring that everyone can get the most out of technology.

Brad Howarth

Brad Howarth has spent the last 20 years studying the evolution of the information technology industry and its impact on Australian business and society. He is passionate believer in the importance of technology to Australian society and the need to ensure equity of access.

National Year of Digital Inclusion

2016 National Year of Digital Inclusion

#totes

A special announcement

We are pleased to announce that 2016 is the National Year of Digital Inclusion (NYDI).

This important year aims to encourage Australians to realise their online potential, raise awareness of digital inclusion at all levels of society and celebrate the benefits of digital literacy and digital inclusion.

2016 National Year of Digital Inclusion is an integral component of Go Digi, a four year national partnership of Infoxchange and Australia Post aimed at improving the digital literacy of over 300,000 Australians.

2016 National Year of Digital Inclusion is relevant to all Australians and we invite you to participate!

GO DIGI | Infoxchange

How can you take part?

Become a Go Digi Mentor

We aim to have 10,000 people become Go Digi Mentors to help their friends, family and workmates learn digital skills. To help us reach this ambitious goal, we want you to become a Mentor.

We also need organisations, big and small, to encourage their employees to participate. How many mentors could you pledge in your organisation?

Visit www.godigi.org.au/mentors to get started. Once registered you can undertake a short, free online Mentor training course.

Digital Inclusion Manifesto Roundtables

These Roundtable workshops will help us develop a Manifesto for Digital Inclusion to sharpen our focus for National Year of Digital Inclusion and beyond. The Digital Inclusion Manifesto will be published on the Go Digi website in late 2015.

Dates: Late October to early November 2015

Venues: Melbourne, Canberra, Sydney and Brisbane

For more information on the manifesto, email hello@godigi.org.au

Pop Up Festivals

Pop Up Festivals are big, bold fun celebrations in each state and territory that will bring together libraries, neighbourhood houses and other community organisations to help people learn digital skills.

Look out for our first Pop Up Festival Trail in the Goldfields region of Victoria on the 25 -27 February 2016

Venue: Community spaces across the Goldfields region.

Find out about Pop Up Festivals across Australia on the Go Digi website

National Conversations

A series of eight events across the states and territories, making digital inclusion part of the national conversation.

Conversations will include international and local speakers, addressing a range of topics and issues.

Themes covered:

>> Innovation and Creativity

>> Health and Wellbeing

>> Financial literacy

>> Society and Community

>> Education, Learning and Knowledge

>> Connect and Communicate

>> Jobs and Employment

>> Online Services and Digital Economy

>> Future - a digitally inclusive Australia?

To get involved in the 2016 National Year of Digital Inclusion visit godigi.org.au or email hello@godigi.org.au